Ken:	It's mum's surprise birthday (1) in two weeks!
Ella:	Yes, we need (2) send the invitations to her friends and family.
Ken:	We (3) sorted out the food yet either.
Ella:	Good point. OK, (4) send out the invitations tonight, can you sort the food?
Ken:	(5) I can, but what food should I order?
Ella:	Whatever you like, the (6) important thing to remember is that mum is allergic to peanuts, so (7) buy anything with peanuts in it.
Ken:	Should I buy a cake too? I have (8) had a birthday without a cake.
Ella:	That's a good idea, although she will be 50 (9) old so there might not be enough room for candles.
Ken:	I think you're right... Anyway, I'll go and order the food now. See (10) later.

Over the last 20 (1), reality TV shows have become (2) popular than ever, and none more so than singing competitions. The trend began in (3) UK with a TV show called Pop Idol, which ran (4) 2001 to 2003. Other versions of the show were produced in America, Australia, India and (5) other countries. Similar shows such as The X Factor and The Voice have also been produced all over the (6) from Beirut to Buenos Aires. However, not all of (7) winners of these competitions have continued to enjoy successful singing careers. For example, even though Michelle McManus (8) the second series of Pop Idol, (9) first album received bad reviews and she is no longer a professional singer. Whatever you think (10) TV singing competitions, they will continue to grace our screens.	1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10.

Many families around the world own pets (1) they love and treasure. However, some people take looking (2) their pets to (3) extreme level. (4) example, Crufts is a British event at which dogs compete with each other in categories such as obedience, agility and even moving to music. The (5) important category of all, however, it "Best In Show". This award (6) always given to the best-looking dog, and so all (7) the owners go to great lengths to make sure that their dogs look and feel their best. In fact, it is not an exaggeration to say that the dogs (8) treated like royalty. Nevertheless, Crufts has been criticised (9) people who think that dog breeding is cruel and leads dogs to be unhealthy or deformed. For example, animal rights organisation PeTA wants to (10) dog shows altogether	1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10.

ALBUM REVIEW: Love Songs by Harry Smith

Love Songs is (1) latest album by Harry Smith, and overall (2) is very successful. It is a lot (3) exciting than Smith's previous album, Wild Side, and has a (4) range of songs which go from rock to reggae. I think that the best song on the album is "Love and Fire". Johnny Arnold (5) the guitar on the track, and I could (6) to it over and over again. "Silent Scream" is also (7) amazing song. I would love (8) ask Smith about how he wrote it. Some of the tracks are (9) effective, such as "Up and Down" and "Poisoned Love", which I don't want to hear again. Nevertheless, in general the album is very good. Smith is a good songwriter and (10) singing voice is pleasant too.
